FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Contemporary Music Center to Play Free Show

Nashville, TN Monday, March 22, 2016 – Students from the Contemporary Music Center are putting on a free concert at the lobby of the Timko Barton Building at Oral Roberts University on April 4th, 2016 at 7:30p.m. The show is a part of a multi-date tour “CMC Live” to culminate a semester of musical study. The roster is made up of performers in pop, rock, country, and rap.

Headlining is local band “Just Friends” with a short set. The six-person group came together together to enter and win the ORU’s Got Talent competition. They went on to be featured in local radio station and news channels – all of which they treat as ministry moments.

“CMC Live” is a variety show. With country guitar riffs, dance beats, and lyrical rap, there’s something for everyone. The musicians will perform originals they have worked on throughout the semester and familiar covers of today’s popular music.

Additional to the music, the Contemporary Music is conducting giveaways for students in attendance of the concert. On the day of the show, the first five people to send a picture with a CMC Live poster to the “cmcnashville” Snapchat get a free hat! A merch table will be present on site with information about the performing artists and more free promotional items such as shirts and silicone phone wallet. One attendee will win a grand prize.

The Contemporary Music Center is a Best Semester off-campus study program located in Nashville, Tennessee as a part of the Council for Christian Colleges and University. More information about the program can be found at <http://cmcnashville.com/>
